

Research Day

The annual Research Day is sponsored by the School to provide a forum for presentation of medical student and resident research. Medical students, graduate students, clinical residents and faculty present clinical cases, investigations and basic research being conducted at the school.