

Continuing Medical Education (CME)

Residents and Fellows may attend any of Marshall's continuing medical education events at no expense. The purpose of the Continuing Medical Education Program is to enhance the knowledge and skill that support the habit of lifelong learning for physicians and improve the quality of health care of all people of the region.

Opportunities to learn from prominent physicians and other medical scientists are provided as internationally and nationally renowned guest speakers and lecturers are frequently brought to the Huntington campus. For a list of scheduled CME events, visit <http://musom.marshall.edu/cme/>.
