

POLICY STATEMENT ON AUDITING COURSES

Courses offered within the School of Medicine are closed to the general public. Permission may be granted to audit by the Office of Academic Affairs in keeping with the standards set forth by the Liaison Committee for Medical Education:

- 1) The student must be currently enrolled in a medical school and be in good standing;
- 2) The student must possess qualifications equivalent to students they will join in the class;
- 3) The student must be eligible for advance transfer status to the MUSOM; and,
- 4) The student has petitioned the Office of Academic Affairs, in writing, at least one month prior to the beginning of the semester.

After eligibility has been determined, the Office of Academic Affairs will consult with the course director and the department chair/section head to determine if space is available and the course director is agreeable to the audit. Inclusion of auditing students must not significantly diminish the resources available to existing enrolled students.

Auditing of any and all medical school courses is dependent upon permission of the course director, department chair/section head and approval by the Office of Academic Affairs.
