

Excellence in Commitment Award

Nominees should be a deeply committed faculty or staff member that demonstrates a dedication to their work, which in turn contributes to the vibrancy of the JCESOM community. This person may approach their work in the following ways:

- Demonstrates an intense commitment to provide excellent service to co-workers, students, and faculty
- Shares enthusiasm for the school with others
- Maintains perseverance in the face of adversity
- Is known in the institution as a reliable “go-to” person, willing volunteer, or good citizen who enriches the school (e.g. reaches out to new staff; motivates others around a cause)

Eligibility: All JCESOM faculty and staff members. Nominations may come from individuals or groups of JCESOM faculty, students, residents, fellows, and staff.

Nominations for Excellence in Commitment Award must include:

- An up-to-date curriculum vitae
- A letter of nomination (no more than two pages) providing a testimonial of how the nominee meets the criteria for the excellence in commitment award
- Additional support letter(s) from the nominee’s chair and/or supervisor
