ASPIRE

Advancing Scholarly Productivity In Research & Education

ASPIRE is a program designed to facilitate and improve the writing process for scholarly publications.

This active writing program provides editorial support, teaches professional writing tools and techniques, and educates participants on strategies for academic publication.

What can ASPIRE do for you and your prospective publications?

- Personalized assistance, from writing to editing, to publication. Receive feedback and encouragement in preparing manuscripts for submission.
- Customizable program for each individual. Feedback is tailored to the type of publication, e.g., case-reports, curricular interventions, and review articles.
- Work with experts to see your work published in peer-reviewed journals!
