

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY

PROJECT P.R.E. M.E.D.

PROJECT P.R.E.M.E.D. provides early exposure for undergraduate ethnic minority students to the processes and preparation required for applying to and attending medical school. We seek to improve the visibility and accessibility of the Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine.

Project P.R.E.M.E.D. is sponsored by the Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine Office of Diversity & Inclusion and Marshall University Office of Intercultural Affairs

Marshall University
Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine
Office of Diversity & Inclusion

Suite 2403-P
1600 Medical Center Drive
Huntington, WV 25755

jcesom.marshall.edu/diversity

Office of Diversity & Inclusion

PROJECT P.R.E. M.E.D.

What is Project P.R.E.M.E.D.?

Project P.R.E.M.E.D. is a medical school information and exploration program designed for college students of color. Selected students will participate in an immersion program that exposes them to life as a medical student and life in medical school.

Project P.R.E.M.E.D. students will:

- Participate in a five day visit on the Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine campus
- Tour the Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine
- Attend medical school classes

- Meet faculty participating in medical research; participate in hands-on activities with physicians
- Receive a medical student mentor who will serve as a personal guide during the participants undergraduate experience and medical school processes
- Meet medical school faculty, university administrators and community leaders.

- A resume and personal statement
- Official Transcript
- US Citizenship or Permanent Residency required

Lodging and meals are provided.

Assistance with transportation may be available.

Selection Criteria

- Completed application form
  - A minimum grade point average of 3.0
    - Students must be a college sophomore, junior or senior
    - A letter of recommendation from a faculty member or university administrator

Dr. Shelvy L. Campbell-Monroe
Assistant Dean
for Diversity & Inclusion

campbels@marshall.edu
Phone: 304-691-1607
Fax: 304-691-1609

Providing Real World Experiences
for future Marshall Educated Doctors

VISIT US ONLINE

WWW.JCESOM.MARSHALL.EDU/DIVERSITY